EXPERIENCE

Participating in project competition (Innoviz):

January 2023 - Group Project

I have participated in a project competition in my college. I learned very much from this project about coding skills and how to make a website.

Clone Website of Microsoft :

May 2023 - June 2023

Creating a clone website of the Microsoft page was a rewarding experience that combined my technical development with an appreciation for design aesthetics and attention to detail in web development.
